JUDGE JONES' SPEECH.

Judge Joseph B. Jones has made several impassioned speeches recently in Obion county, only at Union City, one in Tipton, one at Obion.

The judge referred to the fact that judges took no pleasure in passing sentences upon the guilty. He said that it was with tears streaming from his eyes and with a sad and griefed heart that he sentenced Mr. Hilly in last county ten years in the penitentiary for murder while his young wife clasped her arms around his neck and gave vent to her pitiful agony in piteous screams and shrieks, crying aloud in the court room: "I cannot give him up." He referred to the fact that no judge and no attorney general in America had ever had such a duty to perform as had he and Attorney General Caldwell.

He had been, he said, charged that one of the most brutal crimes in all history was partly in excuse because of the way Tennessee land was claimed. He said that crime was rampant and rising in Obion county, crime that had no shadow of connection with Reelfoot Lake. He endorsed the law that was enacted to make Reelfoot Lake the people's heritage. But much crime had been done that had no earthly connection with Reelfoot Lake crime whose only purport and effect was to subvert the power and dignity of the court. He told of the effort the night riders made to make Mrs. J. M. Johnson take her case out of his court and to make her leave the case to the night rider captain for settlement. How they took her from her bed, passed her across a log and strapped her to make her subservient to them. He there, asked the judge, a citizen of the state that produced Forrest and Jackson who upholds a lawless scoundrel who will beat a law-abiding woman?

He told of the attack reported by Tom Clear, General Caldwell's wife's half brother in which it was proposed to first catch the attorney-general, march him to the Palace, make him sign a warrant for Judge Jones ostensibly on evidence whereupon "both the damn scoundrels" were to be taken out and beaten within an inch of their lives or killed. Jones said he would never catch his job while there was a breath of life in his body. He said that no judge was fit for his position who would crawl or whim or cringe at the feet of a cowardly midnight assassin.

He spoke of John Shaw who on his way to court in answer to legal writ to give evidence was placed on a log and soundly strapped and after which process a gun was pointed at his heart and he was asked if he had forgotten how to run? He narrated the burning of some $1,500 worth of property belonging to Judge Harris, of the capturing of a deputy sheriff at the dead hours of the night, of the taking of writs from them that Sheriff Finch had placed in their hands for execution and of the burning of these writs in fires that the deputies had themselves been forced to kindle. This was all done before Captain Rankin's death and was nothing more nor less than an effort to subvert justice or to wrench it from its legal, accustomed, preordained channels.

He referred to the fact that out of about 2000 cases he had from his court been sent up to the Supreme Court but 22 or 23 had been reversed. The members of the Supreme Court were fallible mortals just like other men and just as liable to make mistakes as other men. There is no said, no infallible rule, like working out a proposition in algebra or geometry, in the law. The question is who is right under the facts. Of the five members of the Supreme Court, Neil, Hendrix, McAllister, Hill and Shields, Neil was incapacitated to overhaul the night-rider appeals because Mrs. Neil was Capt. Rankin's cousin. Governor Patterson named Crutt, a young legal rooster down in Memphis town, who had never in all his life conducted a suit in chancery or murder case and who while doubtless quite a nice gentleman personally was nothing but a legal knot on a legal stick. Of the 4 old justices, Beard and Bell were for reversing the night rider cases, Shield and McAllister were against reversal and the young rooster from down in Memphis cast his ballot with Bell and Beard and so it stood 3 for reversal and 2 for not reversal. He said he believed still that he was right in regard to the chief complaints found with his rulings which he incidentally mentioned and grouped under three heads: (1) the organization of the grand jury (2) the incompetency of certain jurors (3) the number of challenges allowed each juror.

As to the complaint that the prisoners had not been speedily tried, he said there were about 90 felony cases, 30 murder cases, and 75 assault and battery cases, all pending in his court, not joint but separate indictments. He had done all that human energy and will and good intent could do to clear the docket. He had held

MR. FRANK DUDLEY

Bilton & Fox announce to the patrons of the Lyric Theatre that the Frank Dudley Stock Company will open a three nights engagement with Saturday matinee, commencing Thursday, Sept. 16.

The opening bill will be the sensational society play "The Rival Candidates" in which Mr. Dudley takes the part of "John Hopkins," a rich horse man, who is running for congress, and finds a rival in the person of Frank Hawthorth. Which character is quietly portrayed by Mr. U. J. Bilton (who is also known as the owner of the fastest horses in that locality). From that time competition begins and throughout the play nature's race horse scenes are shown that makes the audience think they are at a real betting ring and witnessing the betting pool when the odds are the highest pitch and at a real race track.

There will be no intermissions, but on the contrary popular vaudeville will dispense the monotony during the change of stage settings.

a special term of court for 3 months. He had continued court at Dresden, at Camden, at Tiptonville and at Dyersburg. He had held the regular terms of the Obion county circuit court in January, in May and was now engaged in holding the September term. When he did get to work at his Dresden, Tiptonville, Camden and Dyersburg courts he and General Caldwell had to work almost day and night to the great injury to their respective healths in order to catch up with the work.

As to the matter of bail or bond with which so much fault had been found he said probably two-thirds of the night-riders were out on bond while 24 or 25 are in jail at different points. He said there were but two ways in which one charged with a capital crime could get out on bond and none of these ways had been complied with. He said that duty was to him the sweetest word in the English language, that if the folks in Obion county could sleep these hot nights with windows up, doors ajar or out in the yard or up in the hay-loft or anywhere else that fancy might choose or whim dictate and all in sweet and unperturbed serenity, part at least of the credit ought to go to him and General Caldwell. He told of General Lee's devotion to duty when he, though a child of West Point, went back on the federal government and clung to Virginia, even though General Scott promised to make him commander-in-chief of the federal armies. Even so did duty appeal to him.

He assured his hearers that he would never basely desert his post, the elevation of the majesty and dignity of the law. His aim was to have it said of him what Napoleon had a comrade to call out after of a certain humble private who had been ever true and faithful to his duties: "Dead, but dead on the field of honor." He said he had rather carry Obion county than to carry any other two counties in the judicial circuit, that if the citizens of Obion county voted for him they voted peace, law and order, that if they did not sus-tain him, it would go abroad all over the land that Obion county had voted to sustain murder, lawlessness, anarchy and the dissipation of justice and of the courts. The judge closed with a burst of eloquence in which he urged his hearers to do as old Bowie did down at the Alamo where Santa Anna and his bloody and ferocious troops encompassed like a cloud the doom and beleaguered fortress. The officer in command drew a line and asked everybody that was willing to die for Texas and for liberty to step across the line. The wounded Bowie could not step across, but he cried with a loud voice: "My God, men, pick me up and carry me across."—Troy News-Hawker.

GIRL'S CORPSE IN SACK

POLICE SEARCH FOR THOSE GUILTY OF THE CRIME.

May Have Been Strangled Before
Body Was Disemboweled—One
Portion of Body Missing

Detroit, Mich.—Shrunk by several days' immersion in the waters of Ecorse creek, the disemboweled body of Miss Maybelle Millman, 27 years old, of Ann Arbor, Mich., lies in the county morgue, a pitiable exhibit of human brutality. The state has charitably drawn a shroud over the wasted human fragments so that curious spectators do not see that a portion of the trunk of the unfortunate girl is missing.

While determined men are dragging Ecorse creek night and day in the hope of discovering the remaining portion of the girl's body, the sheriff's office of Wayne and Washtenaw counties and the police of Ann Arbor and Detroit are uniting in a desperate endeavor to solve the mystery of Miss Millman's murder.

The county physician is inclined to think the girl, who was 27 years old, was strangled to death before her arms, legs and head were cut off, the condition of the tongue and eyes indicating strangulation.

The head and limbs were found sewed in the same kind of a hurlap bag as the one containing the trunk. The sack was lying under the bridge about ten years up the stream from the place where the first bag was found, evidence almost disputable that the body was thrown from the bridge.

A NERVOUS ENGLISH LORD

Northcliffe Says Germany Is Preparing for Big Fight.

Winnipeg, Man.—Lord Northcliffe, owner of the London Mail, in an interview here, predicted war between Germany and Great Britain. He said in the Krupp works alone 100,000 men are working night and day and on Sundays preparing for war.

Lord Northcliffe said:
"I will make the suggestion with all respect to the Canadians who are investing their money and labor in constructing railroads and building grain elevators, that they keep an eye on European affairs and begin to figure out why it is all the ship building yards in Germany are busy constructing rapid cruisers and first-class battleships and why it is that Krupp's works have increased their hands to over 100,000 men, nearly the population of Winnipeg."

HE RACES WITH DEATH.

Stricken With Paralysis, Wharton Hurries
to Texas Home.

Colorado Springs, Colo.—An expensive, fully equipped race against death was begun yesterday by A. H. Wharton, a Texas millionaire. Boarding a special car on the Colorado & Southern at 2:40 o'clock, he left for the Texas line, and hopes to reach Fort Worth before paralysis claims him as a victim.

Wharton was stricken a week ago. His entire right side is paralyzed, but his physicians who have attended him believe that the altitude will work a quick recovery.

Tom Waggoner, father-in-law of Wharton, is the richest man in Texas, and it was he who engaged the private car at an expense, it is said, of over $2,000.

STOLE U. S. COAL LAND.

Charge Made Against Four Men Now
Under Arrest.

New York.—George W. Dolly, Rufus Ireland, Willerforce Sully and Frank T. Wells were arrested here by United States Marshal Henkel, charged with conspiracy in defrauding the government out of 1,760 acres of coal lands in Lander, Wyo. The prisoners were arraigned before United States Commissioner Gilrich, and all gave $5,000 bail for examination.

Willerforce Sully is a lawyer and is vice-president and a director in the American Malt Corporation, which has a capital of $30,000,000, and is also chairman of the board of directors of the American Malt Company, with a capital of $15,000,000.

Destitution Widespread.

Washington.—Great destitution and suffering continues among the flood victims at Monterey, Mexico, and the adjacent country, and prompt help is greatly needed. In a telegram to the state department, dated Sept. 6, from Philip C. Hanna, the United States consul at Monterey, he says that nearly 1,000 have been clothed from the supplies at the American consulate, but that the demand constantly increases. Several carloads of goods have reached him from the United States.

Drown Negro in Creek.

Shreveport, La.—A special to the Times from Rayville, La., says:
News reached here Tuesday that Henry Hill, a negro who attempted to criminally assault a young lady near Mangham, in Franklin parish, was captured by infuriated citizens and drowned in the creek near the scene of his attempted crime.

Peary Begins Story of Trip to North Pole

Claims Everything in Arctic Region—Says He Has
Nailed Flag to the Pole.
Discredits Dr. Cook.

(Copyright, 1909, by the New York Times Company.)

Battle Harbor, Labrador, via Wireless, Cape Ray, N. F.—As it may be impossible to get my full story through in time for Wednesday's Times, partly as a prelude, which may stimulate interest and partly to forestall possible leaks, I am sending you a brief summary of my voyage to the North Pole, which is to be printed exactly as written.

Summary of North Pole Expedition of Peary Arctic Club:

The sledge expedition left the Roosevelt February 15, 1909, and started for the north.

Arrived at Cape Columbia, March 1; passed British record March 2; delayed by open water March 2 and 3; held up by open water March 4 to 11; crossed the 84th parallel March 11.

We encountered open lead March 15; crossed 85th parallel March 18; crossed 86th parallel March 23; encountered open lead March 23; passed Norwegian record March 23; passed Italian record March 24; encountered open lead March 26; crossed 87th parallel March 27; passed American record March 28; encountered open lead March 28; held up by open water March 29; crossed 88th parallel April 2; crossed 89th parallel April 4; North Pole, April 6.

All returning, left North Pole April 7; reached Cape Columbia April 23; arrived on Board Roosevelt April 27.

The Roosevelt left Cape Sheridan July 18; passed Cape Sabine August 8.

Left Cape York August 26; arrived at Indian Harbor with all members of expedition returning in good health, except Prof. Ross G. Marvin, unfortunately drowned April 6, when forty-five miles north of Cape Columbia, returning from 86 degrees, north latitude, in command of the supporting party.

ROBT. E. PEARY.

ROBT. E. PEARY.

Don't Worry About Cook.

New York.—The text of Commander Peary's message to his wife was made public here Wednesday, as follows:

"Delayed by gale. Don't worry about Cook. Esquimaux say Cook never left sight of land. Tribe confirms. Meet me at Sydney. BERT."

Straight Shot at Cook.

London.—The Reuter Telegram Company has received the following cablegram from Commander Peary, dated Indian Harbor, Labrador:

"Cook's statement should not be taken too seriously. The Esquimaux who accompanied him say he went no distance north and not out of sight of land. Other men of the tribe corroborate their statement."

Lie Hurdled in Controversy.

The lie was hurled Wednesday concerning the discovery of the North Pole, and the foundation laid for a controversy unparalleled in history. Commander Robert E. Peary is making no certain progress southward off the coast of Labrador in his ship Roosevelt, but there came from him, sent Tuesday and received Wednesday, a message as direct as his homeward journey has been slow.

It challenges the veracity of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, of Brooklyn, and further complicates a situation which the whole world is discussing. In effect, Peary discredits Cook's claims, with the intimation that he (Peary) and he alone, planted the American flag at the North Pole on April 6, 1909, and that Dr. Cook, who asserts that he unfurled the flag at the pole on April 21, 1908, must substantiate his claims.

At Copenhagen Cook, shown his rival's statement, stood by his guns, declined to enter into a debate, and calmly asserted that his records would sustain him. To prove his right of discovery before the entire world, beyond a shadow of doubt, he announced that he will dispatch a ship to Greenland and bring to America his Eskimo companions. Then, with their testimony and his data, he declares that he will stand ready to face all detractors.

In the meantime, Peary continues his journey homeward on the beleaguered Roosevelt.

Reflects on Dr. Cook.

Peary's statement reflecting on Dr. Cook's achievement came first to the Associated Press early Wednesday morning, dated Indian Harbor, Labrador, the point through which he first reported his success by wireless. It had evidently been delayed in transmission, and read as follows:

"I have nailed the Stars and Stripes to the North Pole. This is authoritative and correct. Cook's story should not be taken too seriously. Two Eskimos who accompanied him say he went no distance north and not out of sight of land. Other members of the tribe corroborate their story."

While Peary's assertion is of a nature that makes Dr. Cook's position one of defense, the Brooklyn explorer yet has supporters both at home and abroad. Many of the continental scientists are making time pending developments, while those who have formed no decided opinions in this country have assumed a similar stand.

Prof. William H. Brewer, of Yale, honorary president for life of the Arctic Club of America, of which both Peary and Cook are members, telegraphed to New York as follows:

"I believe that both Cook and Peary have reached the pole."

Dr. Thomas Delbrick, of Washington, N. J., who was surgeon of the Peary expedition of 1898-1902, promptly came to the support of Dr. Cook. He said:

"The charge (referring to Peary's statement of Tuesday) may lessen Dr. Cook's standing in popular estimation until his defense can be heard, but the scientific world will be affected only by scientific discrepancies. Dr. Cook will undoubtedly have scientific records and observations without Eskimo proof."

"If Eskimo testimony is needed, there are enough admirers of fair play in the world to send a party of interpreters to the tribe."

Dr. Dedrick's Views.

Analyzing the Eskimo's character, Dr. Dedrick is inclined to think him unreliable, "with a temperament which would lead him to agree for staidity's sake and because of immediate benefit with a man on the spot having a ship loaded with what is most dear to an Eskimo heart."

This would be especially true, argues Dr. Dedrick, "if his former benefactor had departed homeward as Cook did, in a sled, with no help of ship's prestige."

In conclusion, Dr. Dedrick said:

"Suppose Cook next year went up and distributed presents, as ships do, and asked if his rival had got out of sight of land, and they answered 'No,' what matter would it make to the public?"

BOUND FOR NORTH SYDNEY.

Peary's Steamship Roosevelt Rushing
for Cable Station.

Red Bay, Labrador, via Quebec, Wednesday.—Commander Robert E. Peary, homeward bound on the steamship Roosevelt, arrived at Battle Harbor, just above the opening of the Strait of Belle Isle, and approximately sixty-five miles above this point.

As the telegraph station at Chateau Bay, thirty-five miles northeast of here, is closed, the Roosevelt's next stop likely will be here, although it was at first intended that she stop at the former place.

At one time Wednesday the Roosevelt was reported at Ilanc Sablon, southwest of here, and 100 miles from Battle Harbor, but the latest advice tonight merely chronicled her arrival at Battle Harbor, with her exact itinerary thereafter in doubt.

Coal is direly needed on board, and it is reported that part of the vessel's woodwork has been used as fuel.

News from Battle Harbor is most meager, but advice from there said that the Roosevelt was sighted at that port at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Her speed is uncertain, but she is expected to stop here or go on to Ilanc Sablon, whence, after a short call, she will proceed on her way to North Sydney, Cape Breton, about 475 miles to the southwest.

PRESIDENT GETS MESSAGE.

Tells Peary He Don't Know What to Do With Pole.

Beverly, Mass.—Commander Peary Wednesday delivered the North Pole to President Taft, who replied, congratulating the explorer, but declaring he did not know exactly what he would do with the pole. The messages follow:

"Indian Harbor, via Cape Ray, Wm. H. Taft, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.: Have honor place North Pole your disposal."

"(Signed.) R. E. PEARY, U. S. Navy."

"Beverly, Mass.—Commander R. E. Peary, U. S. N., Indian Harbor, via Cape Ray, N. F.: Thanks for your interesting and generous offer. I do not know exactly what I could do with it. I congratulate you sincerely on having, after the greatest effort, achieved the object of your trip, and I sincerely hope that your observations will contribute substantially to scientific knowledge. You have added lustre to the name 'American.'"

"(Signed.) WM. H. TAFT."

STATE HAPPENINGS

News of General Interest in a Summarized Form,

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS.

Consolidation Coal Co. to Expend
$2,000,000 in Development of 35,000 Acres of Coal Land—Town of 4,000 or 5,000 Will Result.

Palmdale, Ky.—The Consolidation Coal Co. during the past 18 months has acquired, by purchase and lease, 35,000 acres of coal land, on which it has already started the expenditure of $2,000,000 in development and necessary work. State Senator M. G. Watson, of Louisa, Ky., has secured the contract of building a standard railroad ten miles in length from Miller's Creek Junction on the Big Sandy branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad to the mines, and also for the bridge across the Big Sandy river. A number of other contracts have also been let and the shipping of coal will start during the coming winter. Four hundred houses are being built by one firm of contractors, and within one year the new town of "Van Lear" will have a population, it is expected, of from 4,000 to 5,000 people. All of the houses are being wired for electricity and piped for water and sewerage. Waterworks are under way, and light will be supplied to the houses and all buildings, as well as to the mines, from one immense power plant. The town is named for Van Lear Black, the Baltimore banker, who is largely interested in the Consolidation Coal Co. It will be situated on 5,000 acres of land owned by the company, one mile from Miller's Creek Junction and four miles from Palmdale. Miners will be brought to it from the mines now being operated by the Consolidation Coal Co. in West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. Electricity will be used to the fullest extent, and it will be all "machine mining." Notwithstanding this over 4,000 men will be employed in various capacities when the property is fully developed.

LABOR DAY IN LOUISVILLE.

Big Meeting in Addressed by Secretary
Morrison, of American Federation of Labor.

Louisville, Ky.—All Louisville joined in celebration of Labor day. No parade of any kind was held, the principal event being a large meeting held by the Trades and Labor Assembly at Phoenix Hill Park, where Frank L. Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, was the principal speaker. He said in part: "The most determined effort will be made by the Federation to secure an amendment to the Sherman antitrust law that will enable the supreme court of the United States, or any court, to place the narrow construction upon it instead of the broad construction of the hatters' lace case. It is now considered by all who have studied the proposition without bias that the framers of the Sherman anti-trust law never intended that it should be applied to labor unions. The American Federation proposes to continue to fight for the enactment of such legislation as will prevent judges from issuing injunctions upon the behalf of corporations for the purpose of intimidating the members of organized labor in the case of a strike. The Federation will continue its effort to secure an amendment to the Sherman law so that it will apply to contractors and sub-contractors, as was originally intended when the law was first enacted."

LOUISVILLE, KY.—The first attempt to collect judgment against Kentucky night riders was made rather unsuccessfully by a deputy United States marshal at Benton, Marshall county. No bidders appeared for the land of Alfred Chaudet, offered to satisfy a portion of a $25,000 judgment obtained in the federal court by Nat Fitzell, a negro, and Fitzell's attorneys bid in the land for $400. Chaudet was notified, with other members of a band of men near Birmingham, Ky., whom Fitzell has sued as night riders. Hints had been general throughout the neighborhood that a purchaser would find the location unpleasant.

POOL WILL BE A FAILURE

Unless 70 Per Cent of Tobacco Growers Sign Pledge by Oct. 1.

Richmond, Ky.—Senator W. O. Bradley, of Louisville, and Clarence Leuba, of Lexington, president of the Society of Equity, delivered addresses in the courthouse here in behalf of the tobacco pool. Both speakers pleaded for the assistance of this county. Mr. Leuba said: "If all other counties in the state pledged 70 per cent and Madison doesn't show up, the pool will be a failure." They further said if at least 70 per cent of the growers in the state did not pledge by October 1, the pool could not be formed. Secretary J. D. Clark, of Lexington, also made a few remarks, and will canvass this county for pledges.

CHALLENGED TO DEBATE

Is Republican Mayor of Louisville by W. O. Head, the Democratic Nominee.

Louisville, Ky.—W. O. Head, democratic candidate for mayor, exploded a bomb in the camp of Louisville republicans when he forwarded an official communication to Mayor James F. Grinstead, challenging him to meet him in joint debate. Mr. Head recited the fact that it is due the people to know what they are voting for, and why, and states that these issues may be presented more forcibly in all of joint debates are held.

Kentucky Pick-Ups

Louisville, Ky.—By a decision of Judge Kirtley Col. Bennett H. Young recovered $22,036 from the Big Muddy River Consolidated Coal Co. It is said the amount is due on a loan.

Louisville, Ky.—George E. Moody, 81, for years a prominent business man of this city, and treasurer of the Moody-Mitchell Lumber Co., died of infirmities superinduced by old age.

Frankfort, Ky.—Between 10,000 and 12,000 people attended the Capital fair and horse show, the number being larger than has attended any fair and horse show, except Lexington, in Central Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky.—Lucien J. Irwin, for two years superintendent of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis and for ten years a prominent railroad man, was elected president of that road to succeed Attila Cox, deceased.

Lexington, Ky.—The educational committee of the Commercial club at a meeting endorsed the proposition of Louisville physicians, headed by Dr. Coomes and Wilnot, for the establishment of a medical school at State university.

Lexington, Ky.—The educational committee of the Commercial club at a meeting endorsed the proposition of Louisville physicians, headed by Dr. Coomes and Wilnot, for the establishment of a medical school at State university.

Frankfort, Ky.—The republicans in mass convention here nominated W. Brewet Graham, aged 28, for mayor. A full council ticket was nominated. The city administration was denounced. The inactivity of the officials in arresting the lynchers of the negro, John Maxey, was condemned.

Louisville, Ky.—Stockholders of the First National bank met and ratified the plan of transfer of control to the Kentucky Title Savings Bank and Trust Co. The capital of the bank is to be $500,000 and the surplus $200,000. The sum of $500,000 was paid into the First National by the Kentucky Title.

Elizabethtown, Ky.—The counties of Hardin, Hart, Green, Meade, Breckinridge, Metcalf, Warren and Laine form the district embraced by the union of tobacco growers by the American Society of Equity, formed here in pool the crop of 1909 under the Equity pledge as opposed to the Hurley society pledge.

Cardale, Ky.—Between 50 and 60 head of sheep are said to have been killed in Nicholas county by dogs. One farmer is said to have lost 20 from one flock and another about a dozen. About 75 dogs have been poisoned in and around this city recently.

Mayville, Ky.—Pajera were served upon Gna A. Brooks, secretary of the Hurley Tobacco Society, while in this city, by Deputy United States Marshal Orr, on a petition filed by Clark & Scott against him and other officers of the society.

Madisonville, Ky.—The Republicans of the Sixth Senatorial district, comprising Hopkins and Christian counties, nominated E. B. Long, of Hopkinsville, as the party nominee against R. S. Salmon, of this county, Democratic nominee.

Shelbyville, Ky.—At a business meeting of the members of the Baptist church, which was destroyed in the big fire here recently, it was voted to raise $70,000 to erect a new building. Dr. Halley, the pastor, undertook the work of securing the subscriptions.

NO BIDDERS APPEARED.

DOINGS AT THE CAPITAL

Fine Structure for Roosevelt Trophies

WASHINGTON—Trophies secured by the African hunting expedition headed by ex-President Roosevelt are to be preserved to posterity in the grandest and most ornate exposition building the world has known, which will surpass any of the wonderful museums erected and maintained by the wealth of monarchs of antiquity.

The building will be completed just in time to receive the valuable hides of the rhinoceros, the elephant, the hippopotamus and the other huge mammals which fell before the unerring aim of the Roosevelt party. As the most of these animals are rapidly passing extinction it is expected that the trophies will form the nucleus of a collection that will become the most complete and the most important in the world.

There are many duplicates in the collection of 82 pelts sent home by Roosevelt and this fact will enable the authorities of the Smithsonian Institution, for whom the building has been erected in this city by Congress to secure many valuable specimens which were not found by the Roosevelt party. The law permits the Smithsonian Institution to make exchange for specimens it may not possess.

and there is little doubt that all the great museums of the world will be anxious to secure at least one of the Roosevelt trophies.

The new museum building is constructed entirely of granite, with floor space approximately nine and one-half acres. Its cost was slightly more than $3,000,000, and it is being put in order for the reception of the various objects that have been collected, chief among which are those sent by the ex-president.

So far the arrangement of the various specimens has not been determined upon by the curator of the museum. It is likely, however, that the entire first floor will be the future home of the pelts sent to America by the Roosevelt party.

It has been deemed best to tan the skins sent from Africa in the most perfect way of preserving them for all time. As soon as they have been taken from the skins and cleaned of the brine this task will be undertaken by some one who has not yet been chosen.

The work may be done under the immediate supervision of the Smithsonian officials in the museum here, or it may be turned over to some tanner. In view of the importance attached to the proper preservation of the trophies, which in years to come will be almost invaluable, this question is now being considered by the officials. The splendid show cases to be erected in the museum will permit the specimens to be displayed in the most effective manner.

Learn Cause of Laziness in the South

GOVERNMENT experts at last have discovered why there are so many lazy people in the southern states. The reason is a parasite called the "book worm" which is found in the books of the lazy people. The parasite is a small, white, worm-like creature which is found in the books of the lazy people. It is the cause of the laziness in the South.

Dr. Charles Werdel Stiles, chief of the government hygienic laboratory, is the discoverer of the "book worm." He has several specimens of him safely preserved in alcohol, and it may be stated here that the parasite has no particular objections to being put in alcohol. He likes it.

In his investigations of the habits of the parasite covering a period of seven years Dr. Stiles has found that it thrives on liquor—that is to say, that it cannot exist in the stomach of a person who is a total abstainer. Thus the difficulty in the way of its total extermination from the southland has become painfully manifest.

To get rid of the parasite the patient must needs deprive himself of any and all substances containing even the slightest percentage of alcohol. This, of course, includes the "red liquor" so dear to the palate of the victim. What the doctor fears is a dialogue something like this when the government physician goes forth in the south to exterminate the worm and comes up with the first victim:

Doctor—In order to effect a cure you must abstain from liquor.

Victim—Abstain! Do you mean it, sah?

Doctor—Yes, can't cure if you don't abstain.

Victim—How long did you say it will take, sah?

Doctor—Four days, Saturday and Sunday and—

The doctor quits the premises in a hurry.

In summing up his investigations Dr. Stiles holds out one hope. He intimates that "real good red liquor" is not as sustaining to the parasite as is the cheaper grade, for he says that it thrives most among the poorer classes who drink the latter kind, which probably is imported from the north.

Dr. Stiles' report on his investigation has been printed in the bulletin of the United States bureau of zoology.

Marine Corps and Navy Again at Odds

THE long standing row between the navy and the marine corps has broken out again as a result of the findings of the court of inquiry in the Sutton case, and a congressional investigation of the marine corps is not improbable.

The trouble arose over the minority findings of Commander John Hood, U. S. N., the president of the court, who, on his own responsibility and without the support of his associates, Maj. Neville and Lieut. Jensen, took occasion to say that the discipline at the marine barracks of Annapolis at the time of the Sutton trouble was not of the proper sort.

"The testimony," according to Commander Hood's minority report, "concerning the whole deplorable affair indicates a state of discipline then existing in the Marine School of Application discredit to the service and argues strongly against the practice of commissioning and putting into positions of responsibility young men without previous training."

Marine officers say that Commander Hood went entirely outside the precinct under which the court operated when he wrote the above, and that it was merely a gratuitous affront to the marine corps.

"It is the old fight between the two branches of the service," said a marine officer. "The matter will be put up to Secretary Meyer when he returns to Washington, and it is by no means unlikely that he will revoke Assistant Secretary Winthrop's approval of that part of the court's findings. But we will not stop there. We will see that it is brought up in congress next winter."

The young marine officers who were defendants in the Sutton inquiry have given up all thoughts of filing suits for damages against Mrs. Sutton. After reading the findings of the court they communicated with one another and agreed that their complete exoneration by the court was sufficient and decided to let the matter rest there.

each department and subdivision is carefully described and slight-seeming citizens are made to feel perfectly at home in the business houses of the government.

Formerly it was the custom to take visitors through the vaults in the treasury building, where millions of dollars are stored. On one occasion a small boy, tempted by the immense amount of glittering gold and silver out one of the bags with his pocket knife and made away with the two "cartwheels," as the heavy one-dollar silver pieces are referred to.

Since that time the vaults have been closed to visitors, except to those who get permission from the secretary of the treasury. In the large vault which is 89 feet long and 51 feet wide is stored $165,000,000 in coin for the redemption of gold and silver certificates.

Small Theft Makes "Uncle Sam" Careful

A FEW years ago, when Grover Cleveland was president, the United States treasury at Washington was robbed of two silver dollars. This loss although of no material importance was decidedly significant and measures were taken to prevent a recurrence.

At this season of the year Washington is crowded with visitors and tourists to whom the government extends a welcome. Hundreds are at hand to show the visitors through the government public buildings, the working of

PRESIDENT TAFT STARTS ON HIS TOUR OF WEST AND SOUTH

Thirteen Thousand Mile Journey Begun---He Will Meet President Diaz at the Mexican Border--Trip to Take Two Months

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 15.—President William H. Taft to-day stepped into a motor car, waved a cheerful goodbye and started for Boston, where this evening he boards a private car and begins a tour of the west and south that will be the most remarkable trip ever taken by a president of the United States. The route of about 13,000 miles has been carefully mapped out, and every arrangement is perfected. The fact that today is Mr. Taft's fifty-second birthday anniversary was taken as a happy augury for the success of the long journey.

Shortly before noon to-morrow, the president will arrive in Chicago and be the guest of the Commercial club at luncheon. Next, the Hamilton club takes him in charge and will escort him, with a bodyguard of 1,000 members, to the West side ball park, to witness a game between Chicago and New York. After that will come a dinner at the Congress hotel, and then a meeting in Orchestra hall, where Mr. Taft will make a speech. To wind up the day, the president will put in his appearance at a reception and ball given by the Chicago bankers in the Auditorium.

In Wisconsin and Minnesota. Leaving Chicago at 3 a. m. Friday morning, the presidential party will stop at Milwaukee, Madison and Portage, and will spend the night at Wisconsin, Minn., and will reach Minneapolis early on the morning of Saturday, September 18. He will spend all Saturday and Sunday in Minneapolis and St. Paul, leaving Sunday night at eight o'clock in order to reach Des Moines on the morning of September 20.

Five hours will be spent in the Iowa capital, where Mr. Taft will review 5,000 troops of the regular army and make a speech, and then the president moves on to Omaha, where he will spend the late afternoon and evening. Denver will be reached the afternoon of September 21, and the president will go almost direct from his train to the state capital for a reception to be tendered by state officials, by the chamber of commerce and civic organizations. At 9 p. m. the president will make an address in the Denver Auditorium, where Mr. Bryan last year was nominated for the presidency.

land, the party leaving there at 6 p. m. Sunday, October 3, for a trip down the famous Shasta route, through the Sierran mountains and in view of Mount Shasta, to San Francisco.

The president will stop the evening of October 4 at Sacramento, reaching Oakland, Cal., early on the morning of October 5. He will spend four or five hours in and around Oakland and Berkeley before taking the ferry at 12:30 o'clock for San Francisco.

After spending the afternoon and evening of the fifth in San Francisco the president will leave early the morning of the sixth for the Yosemite valley.

The president will spend Monday and Tuesday, October 11 and 12, in Los Angeles visiting his sister.

Will Meet President Diaz. He will arrive at the Grand canyon the morning of October 14 and will leave again that night for Albuquerque, N. M., where he will spend the evening of the fifteenth, reaching El Paso early the following morning for the meeting with President Diaz of Mexico.

President Diaz will arrive from Mexico City at Ciudad Juarez about the same time and he will then cross the frontier and meet President Taft at El Paso. An hour later the president of the United States will return the visit to President Diaz at Ciudad Juarez on the Mexican side. The authorities of the latter city have appropriated $20,000 for decorations and a bull fight.

Arriving at Corpus Christi the evening of October 18, the president will go at once to his brother's ranch, where he will spend Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Charles P. Taft has had golf links built on the ranch.

Trip Down Mississippi River. Visiting Houston the forenoon of Saturday, October 23, the president will proceed to Dallas that afternoon to spend Saturday evening and all Sunday.

He will reach St. Louis at 7:27 a. m. the morning of Monday, October 25, and will leave at 4 p. m. on the steam-dent will make an address in the Denver Auditorium, where Mr. Bryan last year was nominated for the presidency.

The president and his party will breakfast with Thomas F. Walsh, at Wolhurst, near Denver, the morning of Wednesday, September 22, and then return to the city for the chamber of commerce banquet at noon.

Leaving Denver at 5 p. m., September 22, the president and his party will stop for an hour's visit at Colorado Springs, and then go on to Pueblo, where in the evening they will be guests at the state fair.

In Wonder Region of Colorado. The morning of September 23 will find the president at Glenwood Springs for a brief visit and that afternoon he will visit Montrose, where he will formally open the great Gunnison river tunnel built by the government for the irrigation of the Uncompahgre valley.

Returning to Grand Junction to resume the journey westward, the president will arrive at Salt Lake City, Utah, Friday afternoon, September 24, to remain there until Sunday afternoon, the twenty-sixth, when the party leaves over the Oregon Short Line for Pocatello, Ida., and Butte, Mont. The latter city being reached Monday, September 27, at 6:40 a. m. John Hays Hammond joins the party at Salt Lake City.

After spending half a day in Butte, there will be a brief excursion into Helena. Spokane, Wash., will be reached early Thursday morning, the twenty-eighth, and the entire day will be spent in that city.

The forenoon of the twenty-ninth will be spent at North Yakima and the party will arrive at Seattle at 8:15 that evening.

Two Days at Seattle Exposition. President Taft will spend two days—September 30 and October 1—"doing" the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, leaving Seattle late in the evening of the second day and arriving at Portland, Ore., October 2 at 7 u. m. Two days will be spent in Porter assigned to him by the Deep Waterways association, which is to hold its convention in New Orleans on the presidents arrival there.

Following the president's boat will be a spectacular flotilla of river craft. One of the trailing boats will be assigned to make the trip down the river and to attend the convention. Another boat will be assigned to the congressional delegation of more than 100 members. Yet another boat will carry members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association.

During his stay in St. Louis the president will breakfast at the Commercial club, will make an address at 11 a. m. in the Coliseum, will lunch at the Jefferson hotel and be guest of the Business Men's league, and before boarding the steamer at 4 p. m. will make a brief visit to East St. Louis, Ill.

First Stop of Voyage at Cairo. The first long stop of the river trip will be at Cairo at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, October 22. The second stop will be at Hickman, Ky., at 2:30 p. m., the president making brief addresses at both places.

Arriving off Memphis, Tenn., at 8 a. m. Wednesday, October 27, the president will make an address at 9 o'clock and that afternoon a 5 o'clock will speak at Helena, Ark.

On Thursday, October 28, at 2:30 p. m., Mr. Taft will make a speech at Vicksburg. New Orleans will be reached about four o'clock Friday afternoon. The river journey also will include short stops at Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Natchez, Missa.

The president will remain in New Orleans from Friday afternoon, the twenty-ninth, to Monday morning, November 1. He will address the Waterways convention on October 30 at 2:30 p. m.

From New Orleans the president will go to Jackson and Columbus, Miss.; Hurlingham, Ala.; Macon, Savannah, Charleston, Augusta, Wilmington and Richmond, reaching Washington November 10.

SCHOOL TERM BEGINS.

The public school of this city opened Monday with the largest attendance in the history of Hickman College, and all indications point to a banner school year.

Besides almost 500 pupils enrolled, many visitors were present, which is a splendid manifestation of public interest. Of the large enrollment, many were pupils of the rural districts who are taking advantage of the new school law which admits them to this school free of charge. The primary department was well represented, there being more than 100 of the wee tots in attendance. This will necessarily force the board to employ another primary teacher.

As heretofore stated, a number of new or special courses have been added. They will be taught as follows:

French, by Father Gaerin.
German, Miss Mena Diestelbrink.
Greek, Prof. B. F. Gabby.
Elocution, Miss Fawkes.
Bookkeeping, Ed Millet.
Shorthand, Typewriting and Penmanship, Miss Effie Bruer.
Art, Miss Minta Walker.

The teachers elected to handle the regular high school courses are:

Prof. B. F. Gabby, Principal.
Miss Virginia Luten.
Miss Annie Sharron.
Miss Estelle Leneau.
Miss Mattie DeBow.
Miss Mattie Mae Sway.
Miss Anna Oatten.
Miss Imogene Moore.
Miss Effie Bruer.

Doubtless many children will enter school within the next few weeks. Prof. Gabby, our efficient principal, is putting forth every effort to make this the best school in Western Kentucky, and with his able corps of assistants, we believe he will succeed.

The citizens of Hickman should also join in this effort, and help the board of teachers in this good work. Keep the children in school, train them to home study and obedience, and support every measure adopted in the interest of our school.

Miss Edna Trice, of Jackson, Tenn., has accepted a position as trimmer in Hiltz & Dodds Dry Goods Company's millinery department. She has the reputation of being one of the finest trimmers in this section of the country.

The Union City Fair

To have a Great Carnival Midway and Tuberculosis Exhibit

The Union City Fair, which will open Wednesday, September 29th and close Saturday, October 2nd, will offer many unusually attractive features that will be both entertaining and instructive. Pleasure seekers will revel in the splendid Midway on which will be constructed some eight or ten big shows, an immense Ferris Wheel, a fine Merry-Go-Round and numerous other things designed for the enjoyment of the great crowd expected. These attractions are not of the cheap fair variety, but the most expensive and wholesome ever seen in this section, and will alone be worth going many miles to see.

The Tuberculosis exhibit will be an educational feature in which everyone should be especially interested. It is the first ever held in this section. There will be daily balloon ascensions and many other things in addition to the exhibits in the women's building and elsewhere, and the greatest racing card in the history of the association.

The railroads are co-operating heartily with the Fair Management by offering a rate of one fare plus twenty-five cents to Union City and return, and the indications are that the largest crowds and best fair ever held in this section will be pulled off at Union City, commencing Sept. 29, and closing Oct. 2, 1909.

E. R. ELLISON

Tuesday evening, Miss Louise Atwood was the charming hostess of a lawn party, given at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. S. Ellison. The yard was made as day and beautiful with Japanese lanterns, and gas lights, and comfortable and cozy nooks. An interesting and beautiful feature was a large Japanese umbrella, festooned with pink crepe, myrtle and ivy, to which the antique Japanese score cards, in pink and green ribbons, with pink roses attached, were suspended. As the guests arrived, punch was served in the yard by Mrs. E. R. Ellison. Progressive games of five hundred and rook were played. Music was enjoyed throughout the evening. After the games, dancing on the front porch was much enjoyed. Refreshments of cream and block cake, and salted nuts, were served. The out-of-town guests were Miss Mackie Shanute, of Newbern, Tenn., and Miss Kathleen Saunders, of Caruthersville, Mo., Dr. Dave Prather, of State Line, and Louis Kilpatrick, of Memphis.

The KITCHEN CABINET

PLANTATION MELODY.

UNT DUNN stood on her back porch and looked around. Says she all, "I certainly smell rabbit meat, 'less my nose's foolin' me. Oh, honey, take dis gun and shoot de fust one yo' kin see."

An' de sap-sucker sing: "Ker-chee, ker-chee, Look out, Brer Rabbit; whoo-ee, whoo-ee."

Brer Rabbit he watched and looked it all down by dat sycamore tree.

An' he lick his foot and rough his leg, an' he tef dat gun to fire.

An' he tok a runnin' start, and flew—lak a hurrycane, den flew he.

But de sap-sucker dar w' de sycamore tree keep on "Who-ee, whoo-ee."

But he warn Brer Rabbit most too much, an' dat was a shame to see. He pore little tearful face dat fell, dead off a dat sycamore tree. And Dinnah went back t' de yard, done had no meat for her.

And nether no tin' will de sap-sucker sing "Look out, Brer Rabbit, whoo-ee, whoo-ee."

Salad Pot Pourri.
Peel two oranges; with a sharp knife remove sections whole. Prepare also one-quarter pound English walnut meats (skinned), one-quarter pound figs and bananas. Divide the ingredients and toss half of them in an oil salad dressing. Arrange this half in a salad dish, and arrange what is left of the fruit in separate mounds around it. Add whole figs for garnish; sprinkle with dabs of mayonnaise, and candied cherries.

This is presupposing a fancy table service. If served from the kitchen, the fruit may be all mixed together. If the oranges are sweet, add a few drops of lemon juice.

Curry Sauce.
Meats with curry are better if the raw meat be used, but curry sauce may also be served with a left-over preparation.

Peel and core two small apples, and slice two onions. Fry together. Mix a heaping teaspoonful of curry powder, and twice the amount of flour into a paste with a half pint of stock. Stir it into the apples and onions, season all with pepper and salt, and pour over any meat sliced (or chopped). A border of boiled rice is the correct garnish.

COMPANY MAY RESUME.
A meeting of the principal creditors of the Hardy Grain Company, which recently made an assignment, following the tragic death of George Hardy, was held in Union City Thursday for the purpose of continuing the business. The plan, as given out, is for the principal creditors to purchase the mill, elevator, etc., owned by the Hardy Grain Company, and place S. L. Dodds, of this city, at the head of the business.

By taking this action it is believed the heaviest losers will eventually pull out of a bad hole. One of the heaviest losers by reason of the assignment of the company said that he would gladly sell out at 25 cents on the dollar, and added that he believes the company cannot pay more than 10 cents. He expressed himself as being in favor of buying the possessions of the company and continuing the business under the management of Mr. Dodds.

If Mr. Dodds is put on the head of her, he'll make it go, being thoroughly competent in this line.

There are several on the sick list at this writing.

Herman Edmiston visited Hickman friends last week.

Several young people attended the Bush Creek wedding.

Mr. Jim Craico returned home Monday from Rodga, Miss.

Guy Johnson visited relatives in Fulton Saturday and Sunday.

H. P. Johnson shipped four car loads of sheep and hogs this week.

Gordon Rice attended the Maddox-Adams wedding, Wednesday night.

Mrs. Fannie Murchison visited relatives near Rock Springs, Saturday and Sunday.

Misses Etzel and Lillian Edmiston returned home after a visit to relatives near Harmony.

Ready to Shop Today?

Are you coming out to see all the nice garments on exhibit? Going around just "to look" and form ideas? If you are, whether you intend to purchase or not, we'd be most happy to have you make this store your headquarters and spend a little time in our garment section. We have received some new numbers in the

Palmer Garment

If you've seen what we have, you'll enjoy the sight of these. If you haven't been in, you'll enjoy the line all the more.

One thing we ask you to remember when looking at the "Palmer Garment": Each number is correct in style and will give satisfactory wear.

Should you decide to purchase, we'll give you a guarantee ticket from the maker. You run no risk purchasing a garment at this store.

PRESSMEN BUY HOME.

The International Pressman's Union has purchased at chancery sale the Hade Springs property in Hawkins county, Tennessee, sixty miles east of Knoxville, and will establish there a national home for aged and disabled pressmen and stereotypers. The property includes a hotel and 1,100 acres, with four mineral springs.

The Henry Bros. will give away a nice building lot and $10 in gold tomorrow afternoon at the lot sale. The ladies are especially invited to be present.

If you want to see rapid-fire real estate transactions, attend the Henry Lot Sale. They sell a lot a minute.

RUSH CREEK ITEMS.

Mrs. Elmas Noonan is quite sick.

Miss Aro May Roper was ill Monday.

Little Misses Edna and Emma Dorris, who have had a spell of malaria are up again.

Mrs. Martha Roper went to Hickman Monday to visit her son Tom Roper, who is quite sick.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams last Thursday, was the scene of a beautiful wedding, when Miss Eunice became the wife of Mr. James Maddox, a prominent resident of Poplar Grove neighborhood. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and roses. Miss Mary Salmon and Gordon Rice were the only attendants. The bride was attired in a simple white with veil. The beauty and simplicity of the wedding was remarkable. Miss Eunice is the only daughter—the joy of a Christian household, a companion to her brothers and withal a charming, practical, young lady, who will make an excellent help mate to her young and devoted husband. After a shower of rice the happy couple left in the auto for Fulton, where they took the train for a trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Washington City. They will be gone a month. Blessings be upon them for ever and aye.

Mrs. J. H. Brown and daughter, Miss Annie Lee, spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Roper, last week.

The Red Cross Tanning Process

The ordinary shoe is tanned in six weeks; acids used to hurry the tanning process and bore the leather. This is why ordinary shoes feel hot and heavy, why they draw your feet. The Red Cross shoe is tanned by a special process that takes six months—you can bend it double when new.

The very latest Red Cross Shoe styles

You will like the still shorter effects, the new tips, and the rich tones of the leather. The perfect taste of each Red Cross shoe and the extremely short appearance they give your foot, make them strikingly attractive.

Come in and get style and comfort, get both. You may select any style you wish and wear it in perfect comfort. Tanned by the special Red Cross process, the Red Cross shoe bends with your foot. It is this that makes it so easy to walk in. Our customers always say "How I wish I had tried this shoe before".

Come in and let us fit you.

It is well that Roosevelt is out of the country, since the North Pole has been discovered. It will not suit Teddy to have Cook and Peary claiming a bigger stick than his.

On page four we give the latest things in fashion in a mighty few words. Our lady readers who haven't time to read lengthy articles on this subject will find "In Vogue" to their liking.

Yes, Mr. Merchant, you may have been a resident of this town for 30 years, and everybody (?) in the country may know you are in business here—what of it? For thousands of years a goodly share of the people of this world have claimed to know and feel that there is a better and more glorious world in the great beyond, but it has taken a heap of advertising and preaching to get them to point their tracks that way.

TWO SINNERS

There was a man, it was said one time,
Who went astray in his youthful prime,
Can the brain keep cool and the heart quiet
When the blood is a river that's running riot?
And boys will be boys, the old folks say,
And the man is better who's had his day.

The sinner reformed, and the preacher told
Of the prodigal son who came back to the fold,
And Christian people threw open the door,
With a warmer welcome than ever before.
Wealth and honor were his to command,
And a spotless woman gave him her hand.

And the world their pathway with blossoms adorned,
Crying, "God bless ladye, and God bless groom!"

There was a maiden who went astray
In the golden dawn of her life's young day.
She had more passion and heart than head,
And she followed blindly where fond love lead.
And love unchecked is a dangerous guide
To wander at will at a fair girl's side.

The woman repented and turned from sin,
But no door opened to let her in.
The preacher prayed that she might be forgiven,
But told her to look for mercy—in heaven.
For this is the law of the earth, we know,
That the woman is stoned, while the man may go.

A brave man wedded her after all,
But the world said, frowning, "We shall not call."

When urinary troubles set in,
Your Kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Here is local evidence to prove it:
Mrs. G. B. Walker, Catlet and Broadway, Hickman, Ky., says: "I am a strong endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills and firmly believe that if it were not for them, I would now be a confirmed invalid. The pains in my back were so severe that I could hardly stand. My health rapidly declined and I was truly in a critical condition when a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. Although I had almost despaired of getting relief, I procured a box at Helm & Ellison's drug store. The results of their use were truly remarkable. In less than three weeks I was restored to good health and every sign of kidney complaint had been removed from my system."

RAILROAD MAGNATE DEAD.

Edward H. Harriman, the greatest organizer of railroads the world has ever known, met his only lasting defeat of his active life Thursday at the hands of death. Secluded in his magnificent home on Tower Hill, surrounded by members of his family, physicians and nurses, he succumbed to an intestinal disorder after a fight against disease which will rank for sheer grit with his remarkable struggles in the financial world.

Edward Harriman was born Feb. 25, 1848, at Hempstead, L. I. He was educated in the public schools and entered Wall Street in 1872 as a clerk in a broker's office. Later he became a broker himself, and had been a member of the New York Stock Exchange since 1871. At his death he was president of and director in 22 railroads and steamship lines; director and trustee in the Wells-Fargo Express Company, Western Union Telegraph Company, several banks and trust companies, and many large corporations.

The great achievement of his career as a financier and railroad manager was the rehabilitation of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railway systems. He undertook this Herculean task when he was nearly 50 years old, and after he had once practically retired from business. Other financiers had failed signally to put these properties on a paying basis.

Harriman's estate is estimated at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

He leaves a wife, two sons and three daughters.

The trains on all roads in which he was interested were stopped for five minutes, Thursday, while his remains were being interred. After all, it cannot be said that his life was any more a success than most humble cogs in his great machine—only his business succeeded.

MONEY TO LOAN.

I loan money at the rate of 5 per cent per annum on farm lands in Obion and Weakly counties, Tenn., and in Fulton county, Ky. About one half the cash value of a farm will be loaned. FORMER HICKMANITE

Mrs. Mariah E. Dougal, age 73, died at her home in Seoba, Miss., Tuesday, Sept. 7th, as a result of a stroke of paralysis. Deceased was a resident of this city for many years, but has been away since about 1880. She was the mother of H. J. Kimes, of near town, and a grandmother of John Meacham, of the Hickman Hardware Co. She is survived by one child, Mrs. Ida Meacham, who resides in Seoba. Many of our older readers will remember Mrs. Dougal, and will regret to hear of the good lady's death.

BIGGEST CORNFIELD.

The biggest cornfield in the State of Kentucky is the field outlined by the horseshoe sweep of the Ohio river from Henderson round past Evansville, to Green river. It is the biggest because it is corn continuously for 6,000 or 7,000 acres, unknown by fences, unrelieved by any other crop—no hay, no tobacco, oats or wheat—just corn, corn and then more corn. It is estimated that over 39,000 bushels of corn will be raised in this monster tract this year, and this is in spite of the fact that the farmers were scared out of a year's growth by the high water and for a time were not quite sure whether the high water would let them raise any corn.

But the corn was planted, and the stand, excepting along the sloughs, is a very good one.

It means something to plow one of these rows of corn a mile long in horseshoe bend, and by the time a team has made a few round trips it is time to rest a bit.

is absolutely and beyond question the most important from every standpoint. It is wider in extent, broader in scope of variety, and more markedly exclusive.

Included is clothing of the highest style and character—the masterpieces of the leading tailors of the country. And throughout you will find prices so reasonable and so thoroughly consistent with the qualities offered that each suit and overcoat in this store is really a bargain value.

THE BISCHOF TAILORMADE

Simple Serviceable Beautifully Tailored

3068

A tailor made suit of splendid lines—the model. The silhouette is indicated by the lines of the coat and skirt.

THE keynote of these suits is service. They are for women who want to dress well on a few things.

Special designers devote their entire time to these suits—they demand exceptional skill as they depend wholly on line, material and tailoring for their effect.

But it is this simplicity that makes them so practical.

We have found more women are interested in these styles than in anything else. There are so many occasions when a good looking tailored suit is exactly the thing to wear.

But when you want a tailored suit, you want it right.

These Bischof models are made of the new materials that will be extremely popular this fall; in all the late fashionable colorings and are conspicuously correct in all the little details that count for so much with a fastidious woman. The style is not pressed in—it is in the cut.

Exquisitely tailored, they invariably make a woman look well.

It is easy to find what you want.

RESIDENCE FAMINE.

Hickman is again in the throes of a residence famine.

Dr. C. W. Curllin, one of our popular physicians, must vacate his present residence to make room for the owner, and as there is not a vacant house in town, he is planning to purchase tents as a temporary relief. There seems to be no alternative. Others may be forced to follow his example.

Think of people living in tents—houses not to be had for love or money. Although 35 or 40 houses have gone up within the last year, you could almost find a renter for a piano box.

This town needs about a 100-acre addition opened up and the same number of houses built to take care of her growing population. The old districts are congested; expansion only will give relief. While the Henry Realty Co. is opening a 20-acre tract, it will not near suffice to meet the demand, and other available property should be likewise turned into town lots. How long will our moneyed men allow this situation to continue? What pays better dividends than Hickman real estate?

Let's build more houses. They are necessary to the town's welfare, and will prove a safe and paying investment.

FOR GREATER THINGS.

Now that the north pole has been located, let us proceed to get into communication with Mars. Only recently while looking at this planet through our office telescope we thought we had discovered that it was inhabited beyond doubt, but were greatly disappointed when we found what we at first took to be a Marsian was only a crippled mosquito on the glass. Still we are not going to give up our research. We have a wireless message on its way, and should we get an answer, we will inform our readers.

I WOULDN'T, WOULD YOU?

Talk of the family and personal affairs to the butcher, the baker and the neighbor's hired girl?

Be scrupulously exact about paying my church tithes, and turn away a hungry man from my door?

Prepare my house for guests by putting it in a state of immaculate cleanliness, and myself in a state of exaltation that means ill temper?

Live always in the morrow, for getting to be glad today when the sun is shining?

Kuack on every enterprise in Hickman, which didn't happen to pay me just as well as the "other fellow," though it benefitted the city as a whole?

Let the fact that my bonnet is in its third season obscure the truth that I have a good husband and a happy home?

Allow myself to be persuaded that the world owes me something when I know right well that I don't deserve half that I get?

List your real estate with the Courier. If we don't sell it, it doesn't cost you a cent.

It's Fuel that's Expensive—Not the Stove

A Cheap, putty-jointed stove will waste more than its Original Cost in Fuel every winter.

As you know, fully one-half the carbon available for heat in soft coal is gas—the entire gas supply used for fuel and illumination in many cities and towns being made from common soft coal. The ordinary stove in burning soft coal allows this gas-half of the fuel to pass up the chimney unburned, thus wasting it as a heat producer.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove, by means of the patented Hot Blast draft and other patented features, making air-tight joints without the use of stove putty, distills this gas from the upper surface of the coal, utilizing it as a heat producer along with the fixed carbon or coke in the coal, thus burning all the coal. This is why

Cole's Original Hot Blast

Saves the Dollars and makes a ton of common $3.00 soft coal or lignite do the work of $9.00 worth of hard coal.

Your old stove and imitation Hot Blast are not air-tight, do not save the escaping gases and do not give you a warm house at night, because they are made with putty joints. You cannot afford to say to yourself, "My old stove will have to do this winter." The old stove is eating up the price of a new stove every year. Not only that, but on top of the cost is the unsatisfactory result it gives. It is always out the coldest morning.

Even Heat Day and Night—Fire Never Out

Cole's Hot Blast is so perfect in construction that fire will keep all night, and when the draft is opened in the morning will burn two or three hours with the fuel put in the night before. No other stove does this. Fire, therefore, never goes out, and the rooms are kept at an even temperature all the time. Burns hard coal, soft coal, slack, lignite or wood.

OUR GUARANTEE

- 1—We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal or slack.
- 2—We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with same heating surface.
- 3—We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning, with the soft coal or lignite put in the stove the evening before.
- 4—We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal 30 hours without attention.
- 5—We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
- 6—We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely airtight as long as used.
- 7—We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.

The above guarantee is made with the understanding that the stove be operated according to directions, and set up with a good flue.

For Hard Coal — Saves Half

The extent of unburned gases in hard coal is shown by opening the magazine cover of a base burner when the extra oxygen supplied fills the entire stove with flaming gas. The fact that no stove putty is used to make air-tight joints, gives you perfect control over the draft on Cole's Hot Blast. The slow, economical combustion, and the large, positive radiating surface make it the greatest fuel-saving, hard coal stove made.

Would You Lose $50.00 in Fuel to Save $1.00 on the Cost of Your Stove?

That is what you do when you buy a cheaply constructed, putty jointed, showy made imitation stove. Like all successful inventions, Cole's Original Hot Blast has many inferior imitations, avoid them. They all lack the patented features and careful construction, which make the Original Hot Blast a great success. They do not stay tight, and soon open seams and cracks which render them worthless as fire keepers. See the name "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago" on the feed door. None genuine without it.

PROGRESSIVE DRIVE.

On Thursday evening of last week, Misses Lucile and Victoria Houdurant entertained with a progressive drive, complimentary to their attractive visitor, Miss Guldya Brewer, of Mayfield. At eight o'clock the guests arrived and before starting on the drive were served with punch. Progressive were made to various places in the city, and sundae and ice drinks were served at the Hickman Drug Co. Those who enjoyed the evening were Misses Ellison, Brewer, Carpenter, Mayme Naylor, Bettie DeBow, Virginia Prather and Irene Helm; and Messrs. Drew Luten, Willie Amberg, Ode Harris, Will Shaw, Roland Amberg, Fred Case, Ferd Maddox, Goulder Johnson and Gus Alexander.

MARRIED TWO MONTHS.

Like a thunder-bolt from a clear sky comes the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Pearl Roberts, of this city, and Mr. Jack Russell, of Greenville, Miss., the wedding having been kept a profound secret until Tuesday, at which time the bride, just before boarding the train for Memphis, made a quiet announcement of the affair to some of her friends.

This wedding of two months ago took place in Union City, Tuesday afternoon, July 13th, in the parlors of the Palace Hotel, Rev. J. O. Clark officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clark, of Trenton, Tenn., were the only guests, and all parties kept their secret well. Mr. Russell, it will be remembered, was here on his vacation at this time, and returned to Greenville as unceremoniously as if nothing had ever happened. Mrs. Russell would have returned to Greenville with her husband had it not been for the extreme warm weather, and for this reason she decided to remain in Hickman until after the summer months.

Mrs. Russell is well known to most of our readers, and we deem it unnecessary to go into details regarding her many good qualities and accomplishments. She is a member of one of the county's oldest and best families and is held in high esteem by her many friends.

Mr. Russell, better known to most of us as "Jack," is a young man of good character, splendid business attainments and full of activity. For a number of years he resided in Hickman and held several responsible positions. At Greenville he is head bookkeeper for one of the large cotton mills and as usual has many friends wherever known.

Mrs. Russell left Tuesday for Memphis to join her husband, and will go to Greenville to make their home.

LUDICROUS MISTAKES.

A Texas editor, while glancing over the papers, has discovered a number of cases where many good inoffensive people have been injured in various parts of the anatomy. Here are a few cases cited: While Miss Kinamore, of East Wind, Ind., was coming down stairs Tuesday, she slipped and bruised herself on the landing. Amos Mittleby, of Woolpost, Kan., while harnessing a fractious horse, was kicked just south of the corn crib; he is able to be about again. While Harold Green, of Bulah, Miss., was escorting Miss Violet Gooch home from a church sociable, Saturday night a savage dog set upon them and bit Miss Gooch four times on the public square. Joseph Tutt, of Grinnelsburg, Iowa, climbed on top of his house last week to find a leak and fell, striking on his back porch, causing serious injuries. Isiah Trimmer, of Dobberry, Neb., was playing with a cat Friday when the animal scratched him on the veranda.

I REMEMBER.

I remember, I remember the house where I was born; the voice of dad that bellowed forth to rouse me every morn; the picnic that I always had when winter breezes blew, to clear the sidewalk of the snow; the chores I had to do. I remember, I remember, the old-time days in school; the kicking that I always got for breaking some darned rule; the moonlight sleigh, and hug and kiss the pretty girls beneath the robes and hay. I remember, I remember, oh, no, I'll not forget; I'd like to wander back again to those old days, you bet!

—O—
Be careful how you speak of a woman's character. Think how many years she has been building it, of the toil and privation endured, of the wounds received, and let no suspicion follow their actions. The purity of woman is the salvation of the race; the hope of future greatness, the redemption of man. Wipe off her purity and man sinks beneath the wave of despair, with no star to guide his life into a channel of safety. Think then before you speak, remember that the hog can root up the fairest flower that ever grew, so the vilest man can rulp the prettiest woman's character.

CITY PROPERTY:

No. 31—Good six-room house, about 1 acre of ground, cistern, out buildings and other improvements. Short distance from Hickman College. A nice little home. It takes only $1,000 cash to get it. Owner does not live here and will sell at a big loss as the deeds will show.

No. 32—New six-room dwelling house and two acres of ground, out buildings, young orchard, good cistern and other improvements. Just out of city limits. Will sell at a bargain. Inquire at this office.

No. 33—This lot includes 9 houses and lots in West Hickman. Houses are all comparatively new and contain 3 or 4 rooms, ideally located for people who work at the factory. Any house and lot, including all improvements, may be purchased at $500 each—one-third down, balance time. Pay $10 down and let the money you are paying out as rent go towards purchasing a home. This proposition will be open only a limited time.

No. 34—We have a limited number of large level lots in West Hickman that may be purchased on the one-dollar-a-week plan better than putting money in the bank. On this plan you can own a lot and hardly miss the money. Buy one and build a home, if you are paying rent. Better investigate today.

No. 35—This proposition includes two nice, little frame residences, both new, in West Hickman. Both are out of the over-flow district—high and dry. Each residence has three rooms, water works, and are convenient to town. Either of these residences will be sold for $500 or both for $1,000. If purchaser wants another 6-room residence, which is located near in this property, will sell the three at $1,500. These prices are cash.

No. 36—Twenty-five acres of land 3 1/2 miles south of Hickman, well improved, good four-room house with two porches, out buildings, good barn, new cistern, well and running spring. Good young orchard. For the man wanting a small place, this is exactly what he is looking for. Our price on this for a short time is $1000.00 on easy terms.

No. 37—This embraces 600 acres of land in Cuba. Will sell the whole as a plantation or in tracts as small as 10 acres. Located in P. Del Rio Provincia—noted for its production of sugar, pineapples, tobacco, etc. Prices run as low as $50 an acre.

NEW HOME BOUGHT.

The board of directors of the Rural Telephone Co., and the committee recently selected to purchase a house and lot for the telephone company's exchange to use as a permanent home held a meeting Wednesday afternoon, at which it was decided to buy the Whitehead house in which the exchange is now located. Dr. Whitehead agreed to fill under the house and place it in good condition and make a deed to the place for the sum of $575.

His proposition was accepted and the trade closed by the deposit of $100 cash. Early Thursday morning Dr. Whitehead delivered the deed to the company and received the balance of the contract price.—Fulton Commercial.

Under the Payne tariff bill, the tariff on print paper will be from $14 to $20, whereas it was only $6 under the Dingley bill, and the funny thing about the matter is, it hits the Republican papers that worked themselves into hysterics for the success of the Republican ticket just as hard a jolt as it does the Democratic papers. It simply means something like forty per cent. of the country newspapers of the land will have to go out of business.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED.

All arrangements have been completed for the organization and incorporation of a company of $10,000,000, paid up capital, for building a big line of steamboats to carry passengers and freight on the Mississippi river and its tributaries. The stock has been taken by the leading manufacturers, merchants and shippers in all the leading cities in the Mississippi Valley, and the first board of directors will be composed of 100 of the most prominent capitalists in the west. Mr. Kavanaugh, president of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway Association, it is believed, will be president of the new company. People who are in a position to know predict that water transportation will, in a few years, be revived.

RAISE MORE HOGS.

Bob Ingersoll once making a speech against prohibition to a crowd of farmers in Illinois raised himself to an oratorical pitch and said, "Why my dear farmer friends if you destroy the liquor business what in the common sense can you do with your oceans of corn?" A good old farmer raised up in the back of the audience and said, "We will raise more hogs and less hell." A common farmer with one fell swoop of common sense had answered and disarmed the great oratorical agnostic, whose hope was built upon sand.

HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Eight Men Killed and Bodies Burned
in N. C. & St. L. Wreck.

One of the saddest and worst wrecks in the history of the Nashville Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway occurred yesterday morning shortly before 8 o'clock near Peggau Station, 2½ miles this side of Nashville. Passenger train No. 4, which is due in Hickman at 1:30 p. m., and fast freight No. 61, came together at high speed and as a result eight trainmen are known to be dead, six of the bodies burning in the fire that followed. Several others were injured.

The known casualties are:

Will Mogan, traveling engineer,
dead and body burned.

Joe Gower, engineer on passenger train, killed and body burned.

John Tarkington, engineer on the freight, killed and body burned.

Walter Roach, messenger, killed and body burned.

Sam Whitely, fireman on freight,
killed and body burned.

S. B. Welp, head brakeman on freight, killed.

W. S. Stalcup, mail clerk of Martin, Tenn., killed and burned.

L. T. Bailey, mail clerk of Martin, killed and burned.

All the passenger crew were well known in Hickman, and were a clever lot of men.

The Injured.

Bob Halley, fireman No. 4, Nashville, two ribs broken and left side injured.

Ellis Martin, conductor No. 61, Nashville, injured in head and internally (may die).

Capt. T. Jobe, Huron, N. C., right arm and shoulder bruised.

W. L. Thomasson, Penabtree, N. C., left shoulder and arm hurt.

It. W. Boyd, Almond, N. C., right shoulder and head hurt.

Mrs. L. M. Lee, Tullahoma, right shoulder hurt.

Mrs. Temple Lunsford, Murphy, N.
C., shoulder and neck hurt.

Mrs. A. C. Tomasson, Murphy, N.
C., left ankle, shoulder and neck hurt.

a passenger train, No. 1, at Kingston. It seems that the engineer, as well as Mr. Mogan, who was on the engine with him, overlooked the orders to meet the freight. The train was running full speed to make the time at Kingston, where it was to meet No. 1 passenger train.

Instead, the passenger train, which which was crowded, some of its passengers being bound for as far destination as California, proceeded on west and in a few moments No. 61,
one of the heaviest and fastest freights on the system, crashed into the passenger engine.

The news of the wreck soon reached Nashville and instantly there was consternation created. The loved ones of the trainmen and of the passengers were thrown into awful suspense for no one knew who had escaped and who had not been so fortunate. Early reports to the city stated that three or four men had been killed and several injured. Later in the morning it was ascertained that eight had been killed and further that some of the bodies had been consumed in the fire.

A relief train and physicians was hurried out of the city as soon as possible and a wrecker followed shortly thereafter. Another special left at noon from Union Station. Chief Lozetta of the fire department of the city dispatched an engine to the scene in order to put out the fire in the wreckage.

It is said that hardly could a worse
place for a wreck have been found.
As stated, there is a heavy grade
there; in fact, a grade exists all the way from Nashville to White Bluff, and the big freight was coming with a down-hill rush when she struck the passenger. A steep embankment at the point of the collision added to the seriousness of the affair for the engines and a number of cars rolled down the bank in one conglomerate mass and soon the wreckage was in flames, several of the dead bodies being charred before they could be removed from the wreckage.

The mail car of the passenger train was consumed and all the mail burn-

Following the crash of the powerful engines as they came together on a grade the truck and roadbed were torn up in a terrific fashion and wires were instantly out of commission. In a few moments the wreckage was in flames, and to the horror of the tragedy was added that of fire. While the fatality among the crews of the two trains was appalling, none of the passengers were killed.

So far as could be ascertained in a hurried investigation by the authorities the wreck was occasioned by the fact that No. 4, the passenger train, failed to observe orders, which were to meet No. 61 at Peggau, and

ed. The two mail clerks, L. T. Halley and W. S. Stalcup, of Martin, were pinned in their car and thus met death.

Halley, the fireman on No. 4, escaped by jumping. A porter and express messenger on the passenger train were injured. Ellis Martin, conductor on the freight, was badly hurt.

Efforts to get news at Hickman of the tragic happening early revealed the extent of the havoc that had been wrought by the impact of the two on-rushing trains. Peggau Station could not be reached by telephone or telegraph.

HOME MISSION WORK.

The census bureau shows that there are 32,936,445 church members in the United States.

This number is 39.1 per cent. of our population.

The Literary Digest has made a very neat map, showing that, if all the religious people were grouped in one part of the country, they would fill the New England States, New York, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio,
West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

All of the people who have no religious affiliations would cover the rest of the Union. This means they would fill all the States west of the Mississippi river, and also, the tier of States in the Mississippi valley as far east as Ohio.

Again, this excellent paper suggests that there is possible work for the home missionary society rather than the foreign missionary society.

ALLOWED BAIL.

At a conference of the attorneys for the state in the night rider cases
at Union City, Wednesday afternoon
it was decided to allow all of them bond in the sum of $25,000, and Judge Jones issued a writ for a special term of court for the first Monday in November.

Ed Marshall, Ben Williams and John S. Hatfield, who were confined in the jail at Union City, were released, having made bond to the required amount.

Sam Applewhite, Garret Johnson,
Ted Hurton, Fred Pluton and Roy Ransom, who were sentenced to hang,
and Bud Morris and Bob Huffman, who were sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary, and who have been in jail at Jackson since they went there to appear before the supreme court, when their cases were reversed for a new trial, will also be allowed to make bond.

An old account book owned by a farmer shows that in January, 1865, he sold ten fat hogs at $13.50 per hundred. This was a pretty long price, and we of today would say he is making money hand over fist, but another page of the same book shows that he paid $5.50 for ten pounds of coffee, $3.33 for ten pounds of sugar, $1.78 for twelve pounds of thread, $1.30 for a gallon of kerosene oil. The man who raises $6 hogs is evidently better off.

MRS. ARTHUR KING DEAD.

Mrs. Arthur King, one of the highly esteemed ladies of this section, died at her home two miles south of Hickman, at 10 o'clock, Monday night after suffering for many months with a trouble peculiar to her sex. Her death has been momentarily expected for the past two weeks, as her case was beyond the reach of medical aid.

Deceased was born near this city 59 years ago, and had spent most of her life in this county. She was the widow of the late Arthur King, whose demise occurred some eight years ago. She was a good woman in every sense of the word. In her early days she became a member of the Baptist church at Poplar Grove, and lived a consistent, Christian life.

Mrs. King was the mother of five children, all of whom survive her.
They are Ernest King, of Clynthon;
Miss Annette King, of Dyersburg;
Mrs. Jna. W. Jackson, of Clinton;
and Mrs. S. M. Nnifeh and Mrs. L.
D. Threlkeld, of Hickman.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Watson, of Union City, and interment at Poplar Grove burying ground, where a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends assembled to pay their last respects to the departed loved one.

NOTED READER COMING.

Miss Martha Fowkes, of Boston,
Mass., a teacher in the Emerson
School of Oratory, and a noted reader, has been engaged to fill a date
here for the benefit of the Methodist church on Friday night, Sept. 24th.
The entertainment will partake both of a recital and musicale, the latter feature being executed by some talent.

From the Journal, at Dayton, Ohio,
we clip this very complimentary extract: "An enthusiastic and appreciative audience was present last evening at the Conservatory of Music to greet Miss Martha Fowkes the talented reader. The program was a pretty combination of serious and humorous selections, and the versatility of the reader left nothing to be desired. Too much cannot be said in praise of Miss Fowkes' work, which was artistic and especially captivating."

The good ladies are indeed fortunate in securing such talent for this occasion, and should be greeted with a full house.

—O—
The little daughter, Sarah Francis, of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holcombe, died at their home in Deering, Mo., Monday. This family left Hickman a few weeks ago, and their friends will regret to hear of their bereavement.
The little daughter was 18 months
of age; burial took place at Deering.

SYNOPSIS.

"Mad" Dan Maitland, on reaching his New York bachelor club, met an attractive young woman at the door. Janitor O'Hagan assured him no one had been within that day. Dan discovered a woman's finger print in dust on his desk, along with a letter from his attorney. Maitland dined with Bancroft, his attorney, then set out for Greenfield, to get his family jewels. During his walk to the country seat, he met the young woman in gray, whom he had seen leaving his bachelor's club. They were both broken down. He fixed it. By a ruse she "lost" him. Maitland, on reaching home, surprised by a lady in gray, tracking the ankle containing his gems. She, apparently, took him for a well-known crook. Daniel Anstey, half-hypnotized, Maitland opened his safe, took therefrom the jewels, and gave them to her, that forming a partnership in crime. The real Dan Anstey, sought by police of the world, appeared on the same mission. Maitland overcame him. He met the girl outside the house and they sped on to New York in her auto. He had the jewels and she promised to meet him that day. Maitland received a "Mr. Snath."

Maitland accepted the card and elevated his brows. "Oh!" he said, putting it down, his manner becoming perceptibly less cordial. "I say, O'Hagan."

"Yes?"

"I shall be busy for—Will half an hour satisfy you, Mr. Snath?"

"You are most kind," the stranger bowed.

"In half an hour, O'Hagan, you may return."

"Very good, sir." And the hall door closed.

"So," said Maitland, turning to face the man squarely, "you are from police headquarters?"

"As you see," Mr. Snath motioned delicately toward his business card—as he called it.

"Well?"—after a moment's pause.

"I am a detective, you understand."

"Perfectly," Maitland assented, unmoved.

His caller seemed partly amused, partly—but very slightly—embarrassed. "I have been assigned to cover the affair of last night," he continued blandly. "I presume you have no objection to giving me what information you may possess."

"Credentials?"

The man's amusement was made visible in a fugitive smile, half-hidden by his small and neatly trimmed mustache. Mutely eloquent, he turned back the lapel of his coat, exposing a small shield, at which Maitland glanced casually.

"Very well," he consented, bored but resigned. "Fire ahead, but make it as brief as you can; I've an engagement in—glancing at the clock—"An hour, and must dress."

"I'll detain you no longer than is essential. . . . Of course you understand how keen we are after this man Anstey."

"What puzzles me," Maitland interrupted, "is how you got wind of the affair so soon."

"Then you have not heard?" Mr. Snath exhibited polite surprise.

"I am just out of bed."

"Anstey escaped shortly after you left Maitland Manor."

"Ah!"

Mr. Snath knitted his brows, evidently at a loss whether to ascribe Maitland's exclamation as due to surprise, regret, or relief. Which pleased Maitland, who had been at pains to make his tone noncommittal. In point of fact he was neither surprised nor regretful.

"Thunder!" he continued, slowly. "I forgot to 'phone Higgins."

"That is why I called. Your butler did not know where you could be found. You had left in great haste, promising to send constables; you failed to do so; Higgins got no word. In the course of an hour or so his charge began to choke—or pretended to. Higgins became alarmed and removed the gag. Anstey lay quiet until his face resumed its normal color and then began to abuse Higgins for a thick-headed idiot."

Mr. Snath interrupted himself to chuckle lightly.

"You noticed a resemblance?" he resumed.

Maitland, too, was smiling. "Something of the sort."

"It is really remarkable, if you will permit me to say so," Snath was studying his host's face intently. "Higgins, poor fellow, had his faith shaken to the foundations. This Anstey must be a clever actor as well as a master burglar. Having cured Higgins' root and branch, he got his second wind and explained that he was—Mr. Maitland! Conceal Higgins' position. What could he do?"

"What he did, I gather."

"Precisely."

"And Anstey?"

"Once loosed, he knocked Higgins over with the butt of a revolver, jumped out of the window and vanished. By the time the butler got his senses back, Anstey, presumably, was miles away. . . . Mr. Maitland!" said Snath, sharply.

"Yes?" responded Maitland, elevating his brows, refusing to be startled.

"Why," crisply, "didn't you send the constables from Greenfield, according to your promise?"

Maitland laughed uneasily and looked down, visibly embarrassed, acting with consummate address, playing the game for all he was worth; and enjoying it hugely.

"Why . . . I . . . really, Mr. Snath, I must confess—"

"A confession would aid us materially," said Maitland, with evident candor; "You round up a burglar sought by the police of two continents, and listlessly permit his escape. Why?"

"I would rather not be pressed," said Maitland, with evident candor; "but, since you say it is imperative, that you must know—" Snath inclined his head affirmatively. "Why . . . to tell the truth, I was a bit under the weather last night; out with a party of friends, you know. Dare say we all had a bit more than we could carry. The capture was purely accidental; we had other plans for the night and—well," laughing shortly, "I didn't give the matter too much thought, beyond believing that Higgins would hold the man tight."

"I see. It is unfortunate, but . . . you motored back to town."

It was not a question, but Maitland considered it.

"We did," he admitted.

"And came here directly?"

"I did."

"Mr. Maitland, why not be frank with me? My sole object is to capture a notorious burglar. I have no desire . . ."

USEFUL, AFTER ALL.

Here is something that will interest our bald-headed Hickman friends: A Chicago physician has discovered that the onion has wonderful medicinal properties, and that a drop of the juice will cure earache, toothache, and is a dead shot for nervous disorders. But the most startling discovery he makes is that onion juice will make hair grow on the balddest of bald heads. And that is not all that onions are good or bad for. They kill companionship and put distance between friends. They break engagements and separate lovers. They make Laredo famous. They cure the tameness of hash and make chile con carne cheap—and possible.

Idle boys are the timber convicts are made of.

Dress slowly when you are in a hurry and save time.

Don't live in the cellar, but on the house top in God's bright sunshine.

Fight today's battles instead of planning brilliant campaigns for the future.

Take good care and be thoughtful of mother, she may not be with you tomorrow.

My boy, my girl, remember there is no surer way of sizing you up than by noting the company you keep.

Kindhearts and willing hands will do more towards making a model home than all the wealth this world affords.

The best capital for a boy is not money, but the love of work, simple tastes and a heart loyal to his friends himself and his God.

Words to Teach and Comfort.

If you are down with the blues, read Psalm 27.

If there is a chilly sensation about the heart, read Rev. 3.

If you don't know where to look for the month's rent, read Psalm 37.

If you feel lonesome and unprotected, read Psalm 91.

If the stove pipe has fallen down and the cook goes off in a pet, put up the pipe, wash your hands, and read James 3.

If you find yourself losing confidence in men, read 1. Cor. 13.

If people pet you with hard words, read John 15.

If you are getting discouraged about your work, read Psalm 126 and Galatians 6:7-9.

If you are out of sorts, read Hebrews 12.

The Working Girl.

"The girl who works—God bless her." She is brave and active; she is not too proud to earn her own living; she is not ashamed to be found at her daily task; she is studious, painstaking and patient; she smiles from behind the counter or the desk; her smile is the reflection of celestial grandeur and eternal bliss; there is a memory of her own sown into each silken gown; she is like a beautiful mountain; her character is pure as the bubbling springs, strong as the rock from which it flows, and as high as the mountain's topmost pinnacle. The sight of her should be a fine inspiration for us all. Her hands may be stained by dishwashing, sweeping, factory grease or printer's ink, but is an honest and helping hand; it stays misfortune from many homes; it is one shield that protects many a forlorn family from the asylum. All honor to the girl who works.

To Parents.

It is unreasonable to expect an adult from long idleness to be entirely innocent, and much less that of a child. While we would not keep a child steadily employed, yet it should certainly have some duties. From appearances, there are some boys who are at home but for their minds and to sleep. They can be seen at any hour of the day, loafing in groups about town or making their way out of town to spend the day—who can say how or where? What can we expect as a result? Can we expect to see boys of tender, impressionable age, under such conditions, make worthy, intelligent, industrious, christian young men? And where is the parent who does not desire to see his boys make such men? Then be up and doing, for you have a sacred duty given you to perform. Do not tell me you have so little time. You do many things, less important, which absorb your time and attention. Let these things go, but do not neglect your boys.

If mothers would only realize the full significance of the truth expressed in the trite saying, "As the twig is bent the tree inclines," the next generation of men and women would surely be better in every way, for it is true that the future well-being of the man or woman, physically, mentally and spiritually, depends upon the thousand and one little acts of seeming unimportance that make up the child's daily life. It is the home training the child receives that makes its future "for better or for worse."

We do not know whether it is false pride, false education, or a fashion we have drifted into, but it is plainly true that our girls more and more shun housework, and many of the new homes in these days do not promise uninterrupted happiness from this cause. The girls are urged to try their hands at everything but the work of the home—the most needed and healthiest pursuit of all. Wherever there is content and peace, there must be a good home. It is impossible for a family to enjoy life if the food is poor, the buttons off, and things generally in confusion. In every household where love and happiness abound, there is mostly a woman to be found looking after details, and sparing no pains to have things comfortable and inviting.

—O—

How many impositions we unconsciously place upon children! When small, they are subjected to kisses, tosses, pokes, rockings, and a multitude of intimacies that would be roundly resented by older heads. Then as they begin to grow, year after year, they are treated on every new occasion with "Why, how dreadfully you do grow! How frightfully tall you are getting! You look exactly like your aunt Nancy, or your grandfather! Or, where do you get red hair? Or the freckles? Or the snub nose? etc." Personalities are not pleasant to adults, even to experienced persons who have learned to meet calmly, or parry such impertinences, but to children they are positively painful, as their blushes often testify, and tend to make them bashful and dislike to meet strangers. Pray treat the little people with perfect politeness and consideration, for they are sensitive, and they do mind what you in your thoughtlessness ignore. They remember ill-treatment, too, often all their lives, and it is the part of wisdom to acquire and cherish the love and respect of the little folks.

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it.

"My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health.

"I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They won't regret it, for it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Besse L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.
